

Sir(s) ,

The FCC should not consider, nor impose any regulation or law that would, in anyway lessen the protections afforded the public by Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law.

Since the law has been in effect my annoying phone calls have been cut from 3-4 per night to 3-4 per month. If anything the Indiana Law should be strenghtened to remove the remaining gorups who are still allowed to solicit through telemarketing.

Thank you for your attention,

T. Scott Peters
